

Building unified & dignified communities to build Nepal

Sano Paila’s main objective is to provide opportunities to make improvements in economic, social, and health conditions in order to achieve poverty alleviation and enhance social justice.

Our unique community development model embodies youth activism and promotes diversity, inclusion, leadership, good citizenship, and positive thinking. Our programs are diverse and target to improving the lives of vulnerable communities and bring positive change.

Sano Paila has a 14-year proud history of bringing Nepali people forward, empowering them and developing their skills to solve their own problems, as well as solve challenges in their own communities.

FOURTEEN YEARS OF GROWING OUR IMPACT: 2006-2020

Sano Paila is a development oriented, non-profit making, community-based organization that was established with help from the community in 2006. It has a track record of successfully managing a diverse range of programs that tackle a number of complex issues (issues often ignored by the government, private sector, and state security system). Each of the programs has local reach, breadth and ownership targeted to improve the lives of disadvantaged communities.

Our focus areas span from youth empowerment, drug rehabilitation, to health improvement and advocacy, peacebuilding, crime prevention and reformation, anti-trafficking and child protection, access to education, livelihood enhancement, and crisis response.

What distinguishes Sano Paila is the fact that, it inspires disenfranchised communities and works with them through education, youth volunteerism, and grassroots organizing to tackle complicated problems with local solutions that ensure a degree of sustainability built into the projects.

Sano Paila has developed a deep understanding of community mobilization challenges, and hence its interventions are tailored to the diverse communities and varied cultures in which it operates. Named for the idea that it often just takes "a little step" to serve one’s community and induce positive change, Sano Paila envisions a community where development is spearheaded by the members of the community itself thus ensuring equitable participation and sustainability.

Our Programs and Impact (2006 - 2020)

Through its work over the past 14 years, Sano Paila has tackled a number of complex issues (issues often ignored by the government and private sector), including; drug abuse and treatment, child trafficking, crime prevention and reformation, education and livelihood, and peace building within communities in conflict including political parties.
