After the massive earthquake hit Nepal in 2015, we responded first to relief and support operation in Gorkha. And our work continues today to help people get back on their feet and transform their lives.

Since June, 2016, Sano Paila, in collaboration with Samaanta Foundation, and the community of Sirandada, Gorkha launched "Jeevika -Empowerment & Livelihood" program, focusing on income generation (beekeeping) support and construction of zero-energy cold chamber to store high-valued niche agricultural products.

At Sano Paila, we undertake projects based on community-wide approach, enhancing and promoting the voices of the community, with a strong emphasis on youth.

Survivors of trafficking, deaf & mute

"Kaasya:", is a socially responsible business specializing in handcrafted jewellery that reflects the life, beauty and struggle of the Nepali people. Each piece is created by skilled jewellers who are deaf and mute, or survivors of human trafficking. The team is a sterling example of hard work, determination, and grit. The artists involved in the business have overcome many obstacles to get where they are. They have had more than their fair share of hardships and have found the courage to change their lives for the better. Through Kaasya:, they are provided an opportunity to support themselves, shed some light on human trafficking, put real stories and faces to the issue. This was initiated by Sano Paila with the idea of using visual arts as a form of therapy to heal the wounds inflicted during human trafficking and abuse.

Sano Paila's capacity for rapid implementation of programs is evidenced by the fact that during 2015 post-earthquake, it collaborated with a dozen organizations and reached out to around 15,000 families in 14 affected districts with immediate supplies & medical relief through its diverse network at the grassroots level. Likewise, during the civil unrest and six-month-long border blockade in Terai-Madhesh, the funds for different projects were released late by lead agencies, leaving only two quarters for the full implementation of one year's activities.

Similarly, during the COVID-19 pandemic, Sano Paila played an important role by responding in a multi-pronged manner to best serve the needs of the most vulnerable by collaborating with government agencies and civil society organizations. Even at such a unprecedented times, Sano Paila managed to achieve tremendous success rate without compromising service quality and delivery standards.
